Between you and me, I got the number and it is high because they priced based on 2 full floors (not a savings for a basement) so I am working with them to see what we can reasonably expect the price to be with less “finished” development at the basement. I should have this week.

Good afternoon –

I was just wondering if you have any updates on the estimated cost for the police station.

Not really as a bi-weekly update ... just wondering.

Penny

P.S. We had our interview with MCA today on our application for a Connectivity Hub which would involve an addition to the library.
