Attached is a working floor plan for Friday's discussion.

Caveats:

This is in process. We are making some revisions, but it's a good plan to discuss

The square footage appears larger because we are taking dimensions from the exterior of the brick façade as opposed to the structural framing we previously dimensioned from. We will adjust so all square footage comes in line – after our meeting.

This is a plan tied to a 3-d model so the drawings are further along than they appear.

Should be fun on Friday!

Ellen
